

One stack of 25 cards, and one stack of 10 cards. The remaining cards are removed from the game. The End Card is now added to the stack of 10 cards, which is then shuffled. Place the stack of 10 cards containing the End Card in the center of the table. Now shuffle the stack of 25 cards, and place it on top of the stack of 10. You will now have one stack of cards with the End Card somewhere between the 10" card and the bottom.

PLAYING THE GAME:

Players take turns in clockwise order, starting with a randomly chosen player.

A player's turn consists of the following actions:

- 1- Draw a Card
- 2- Propose a Law
- 3- Vote
- 4- Play or discard the proposed law.

Once all 4 actions have been completed by the starting player, play continues with the next player.

1- DRAW A CARD:

The player draws one Law Card from the top of the stack. If the player draws the End Card, the game is immediately over, and players proceed to the next step.

2- PROPOSE A LAW:

The player proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

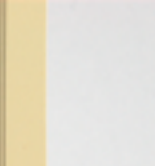

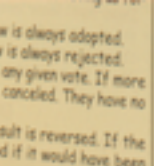

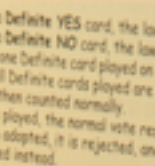

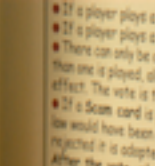

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

The player then proposes a law to the other players.

DEMOCRACY

The game of democracy and humor, by Bruno Faidutti

